

A Message from Poss

2016

Hi everyone!

Well, another year is nearly over, school is finished for the year and Christmas is nearly here. I'm so excited. Are you excited? Are you going on holidays over the school break? I'd love to hear all about it next year when you come back!

I'm going to Bribie Island with my friends for 3 weeks to stay in a camping ground. It will be so much fun.

Do you know where Bribie Island is? It's just north of Brisbane and is surrounded by water, so there will be lots of things to do like swimming, fishing and playing in the sand. There are few things I know about Bribie Island that you might be interested in. It's the smallest island that forms part of the coastline of Moreton Bay. It's 34 kilometres long and 8 kilometres wide!

Lots of my friends live there, including kangaroos, wallabies, emus, snakes, frogs, birds and dingoes and they all live on the island. You can see some of my dolphin friends play out in the water from the island too.

Captain James Cook actually sailed along side the island back in 1770 when he was first arriving to Australia. Matthew Flinders was met by the aboriginal tribes called Djindubari and Jindoobarria. So, that's some history for you!

I am looking forward to being there soon and meeting up with my friends. Swimming and doing other funs things will be exciting too. I hope you all stay safe and well too, don't forgot your hats and sunscreen, also don't forget to take your medications and drink lots of water in this hot weather.

There are a couple of things for you to do in my newsletter this time, and some colouring in! There is a birthday message and a big Christmas drawing to colour in! I hope you enjoy them and please send them in to me, and I will pick the best one and send you a prize!

We wish you and your family a Blessed Christmas!
Have a great and safe holiday season!

‘Spotlight On’

Little Poss ‘Member of the Month’

Hi, my name is Paisley

I am 11 years old and have a severely disabled brother who was diagnosed with epilepsy when he was only less than one year old and had his first seizure only a few weeks after he was born.

His name is Noah and he is 19 years old. Noah was only 8 years old when I was born and still could walk well, ride a bicycle and carry me around. He was 13 when everything started to go downhill.

He lost many of his words, memory and mobility and mostly now uses a wheelchair. During this hard time we spent a lot of time in hospital sitting with him and sometimes I had to miss sport or going to friends' houses but it was all worth it to get my brother out of hospital and back home with us and him to go back to school.

Noah has seizures every day and I sometimes have to swipe his Vagus Nerve Stimulator device with a magnet if Mum and Dad can't get to him first.

I always count the time his seizure lasts in my head. Noah has taught me how to love, care and nurture for everyone.

Ask Dr Dudley

Dear Dr. Dudley

My brother and I like to go swimming over the summer holidays. Should I do anything different now that I have epilepsy?

Theo

Dear Theo

There are some things that will be more important now that you have epilepsy. It might be a good idea to speak to your doctor to ask his advice first. After that, here are some things to consider before you go swimming:

- * Make sure you are feeling 100% well and not feeling too tired to swim
- * It's always a good idea to swim with someone who knows what your seizures look like, and that they swim close to you
- * Make sure you are a good swimmer too
- * Do your friends or teachers know what to do if you have a seizure in the water?
- * Sometimes wearing a brightly coloured swim cap will let people know where you are in the water
- * Make sure you have taken your medication

If your seizures are not well controlled, it is not a good idea to swim alone. You could wear a safety vest to keep you floating and you could have 2 people in the water with you.

An ambulance is called for all seizures occurring in the water. Even if the breathing seems to have returned to normal and the person appears to have recovered, water may have been inhaled into the lungs.

Most people with epilepsy can, and should take part in sports and other activities that are suitable to their age and the degree of safety provided. You can call Epilepsy Queensland for a fact sheet on epilepsy and swimming. Take care and happy swimming.

Brain Busters!

1. You are on the bank of the river with a goat, a lion, a bale of hay and your canoe. You have to get them all across but your canoe can only carry one at a time. The other problem is if the lion and the goat are left alone the lion will eat the goat and if the goat and the hay are left unattended the goat will eat the hay. How can it be done?
2. You are lost in the bush and you need to choose one of the two tracks to find your way home. The other track goes to the desert. You run into two wombats who both know the best way home. One of the wombats always lies and other wombat always tells the truth. You can only ask them one question to find out the true way home. What is the question?

There were 3 boys at the zoo and the zookeeper came up to them and asked for their names and what they were trying to do.

The first boy said "My name is Tommy and I was trying to feed peanuts to the lions."

The second boy said "My name is Billy and I was trying to feed peanuts to the lions."

The third boy said, "My name is Peanuts."

Answers -

1. Take the goat across first and drop it on the other side, go back and pick up the lion and take it to the other side. Now pick up the goat again, leaving the lion by itself and return to the side you started from. Now take the hay across and leave the goat. Once you have dropped the hay off to the other side with the lion, return with an empty canoe and pick up the goat, finishing the journey without any problems.

2. Ask them which way the other wombat would say to go home. If you ask the one who tells the truth he will say the truth about what the other lying wombat would say and that is the wrong way home. Asking the liar which way and he would tell you the opposite of what the truthful one would say, also the wrong way. Once you know this, you can happily walk home down the other track that they both told you!

Poss' Old Christmas Recipes

Little Poss loves to cook at Christmas time!

Caramel Popcorn

1 cup popping corn
2 tablespoons oil
Pop corn in oil.
250g butter
4 tablespoons honey
1 1/2 cups sugar

Stir butter, honey and sugar over low heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to boil. Boil uncovered for 8 minutes. Pour over corn and stir until coated, Put into patty cases.

Don't forget to ask for help from an adult!

White Christmas

3 cups rice bubbles
2 cups chopped mixed dried fruit
1 cup coconut
1 cup icing sugar
1 cup powdered milk
160 g copha

Mix all dry ingredients together. Melt copha and mix all ingredients. Press into greased tin. Leave to set before cutting.

Coconut Ice

500g icing sugar
2 2/3 cups coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla essence
2 egg whites
125 g copha
Food colouring

Sift icing sugar into bowl. Add coconut, vanilla and lightly beaten egg whites. Melt copha - allow to cool slightly. Add to other ingredients. Press 1/2 of the mixture into greased tin. Colour the remainder and press on the white. Refrigerate. Cut into pieces. Enjoy
